

LANDING PAGES & THE GRAND SLAM OFFER — HOMEWORK

A landing page that leads with the guarantee.

For Kasim Aslam's Right Hand Program. Pareto's strongest promise — 40 hours back in 30 days, or next month free — sits near the bottom of their real page. I made it the headline, then spent the rest of the page proving it.

FOUR THINGS THAT MAKE THIS PAGE DIFFERENT

1 The guarantee is the headline

Most visitors never scroll far (58% never reach the form). So the promise and the risk reversal are the first thing they read.

2 A live "what's my hour worth?" calculator

The founder drags a slider and sees the math: 40 hours × their rate vs $3,000/mo. Below $75/hr it honestly says "this isn't for you yet."

3 Ivan's story is the proof

Right Hand at 18, CTO, then co-founder of Pareto. It answers the real doubt: "can an assistant handle serious work?"

4 Nothing invented

Every number, guarantee and quote is copied from paretotalent.com or Kasim's brain. The page is clearly labeled as a concept page.

The offer, defined before the page

One offer

The Right Hand Program — "not a placement, a complete delegation system."

One audience

US founders doing $100K+ a month who are the bottleneck in their own company.

One action

"Get matched free" → paretotalent.com/matching.
Nothing else to click.

THE GRAND SLAM OFFER, CARD BY CARD

AUDIENCE	Founders doing $100K+/month. Not employees, freelancers or solopreneurs.
PROBLEM	The founder is the ceiling. Every decision and "quick thing" routes through them. "You don't have a people problem — you have a delegation problem."
SOLUTION	A full-time Right Hand from Latin America, chosen from 1,000+ applicants, trained on AI, who owns inbox, calendar, follow-ups and ops.
VALUE STACK	Right Hand · weekly Delegation Mastermind with Kasim · 250+ operator community · 10-day AI bootcamp (40+ hrs) · Second Brain OS · Client Success Manager · three guarantees.
GUARANTEE	Freedom 40: 40 hours back in your first 30 days or your next month is on us. Matching: no match you love, you owe nothing. Lifetime Replacement: wrong fit, any time, replaced at no cost.
PRICE	$36,000/yr (effective $3,000/mo) · $10,000/quarter · $3,600/month · + $3,000 one-time placement.

THE VALUE EQUATION

LEVER	HOW THE PAGE PUSHES IT
Dream outcome ↑	"Your business should run without you."
Likelihood ↑	100+ founders, 93% stay a year, Kasim's #1 agency and 8-figure exit, Ivan's rise.
Time delay ↓	3 profiles in 24 hours; 40 hours back inside 30 days.
Effort ↓	2 questions, one short call, then 10 minutes a day.

The one structural change: Pareto's real page puts the guarantee around section 15 and the ROI math around section 13. This page puts the guarantee in the headline and the math right after the problem.

The inverse interview — 20 questions

Claude asked the questions; each answer comes from Kasim's Second Brain [B], paretotalent.com [P] or its matching page [M].

AUDIENCE

1. Who exactly is this for?

Founders doing $100K+ a month who have become the bottleneck. [M][B]

2. Who is it not for?

Employees, freelancers, solopreneurs. [B]

3. What does their day look like?

Every decision, approval and "quick thing" routes through them. [B]

4. What have they tried?

Hiring people — but it's "a delegation problem," not a people problem. [P]

PROBLEM

5. The problem in one line?

The founder is the ceiling of the company. [B]

6. What does it cost them?

Their most expensive hours, spent on inbox, calendar, follow-ups and ops. [M]

7. Why can't they fix it alone?

Working harder doesn't remove the constraint. "Talent is the leverage." [B]

SOLUTION

8. Dream outcome?

The business runs without them in the middle; they lead. [B]

9. What is the solution?

A full-time, AI-trained Right Hand from Latin America, chosen from 1,000+ applicants. [B][M]

10. Why will they believe it?

100+ founders, 93% retention; Kasim's #1 agency and 8-figure exit; Ivan's rise. [P][B]

11. How fast is the first win?

3 profiles in 24 hours; 40 hours back in 30 days. [M][P]

12. How much effort from them?

2 questions, a short call, 10 minutes a day. [M][P]

VALUE STACK

13. What exactly do they get?

The 7 parts: Right Hand, Mastermind, community, AI bootcamp, guarantees, Second Brain OS, success manager. [B][P]

14. Most underrated part?

The Delegation Mastermind — Kevin: "I would not be nearly as efficient with my assistant" without it. [P]

15. Why isn't this "just a VA"?

"Not a placement. A complete delegation system." [B][P]

PRICE

16. What does it cost?

$36k/yr (eff. $3k/mo), $10k/qtr, $3,600/mo, + $3k placement. [B][P]

17. How do we frame the price?

40 guaranteed hours × their rate vs $3,000/mo. At $250/hr: $10,000, a 3.3× return.

GUARANTEE

18. What can we guarantee?

Freedom 40, Matching, Lifetime Replacement — word for word. [P]

19. Biggest fear, and the answer?

"Wrong person." No contract until you find your person + replacement any time. [P]

ACTION

20. What is the one action?

"Get matched free" → /matching. No fake scarcity (their "Spring 2026 cohort" line looked stale). [P]

What it changed: questions 11 and 18 showed the measurable promise and the risk reversal are the offer — so the guarantee became the headline.

10 sections — each one fights one objection

All copy was written and approved before any HTML existed (landing-copy.md), then locked so the design pass couldn't change a word.

SECTION	HEADLINE ON THE PAGE	OBJECTION IT ANSWERS
1 • Hero	Get 40 hours back in your first 30 days — or your next month is free.	"Why should I care, and what if it fails?"
2 • Social proof	100+ founders · 93% after 12 months · 1,000+ applicants per placement · 24h to 3 matches	"Is this real?"
3 • Problem	You don't have a workload problem. You're the bottleneck.	"I don't need this."
4 • Benefits	This isn't a cost. It's buying back your most expensive hours. (+ calculator)	"It's too expensive."
5 • How it works	From overwhelmed to delegated, in three steps.	"Sounds complicated."
6 • The Ivan story	Ivan started as a Right Hand at 18. Five years later, he co-founded Pareto.	"An assistant can't do serious work."
7 • The offer	Not a placement. A complete delegation system.	"What exactly do I get?"
8 • Guarantees	Every risk is on us. Three reasons you can't lose.	"What if it doesn't work?"
9 • FAQ	Before you click.	The last small doubts.
10 • Final CTA	Your business should run without you. Start today.	"Why now?"

HOW IT WAS BUILT

One self-contained HTML page pasted into a single GoHighLevel Code element. Every style is scoped under one wrapper (#rh), so GHL's own styles can't break it. It works on phones, has a sticky "Get matched" bar on mobile, and respects "reduced motion" settings. The one action — Get matched free — appears in the hero, the offer, the final CTA and the mobile bar, and every button goes to the same place.

The brand system

Right Hand

by Pareto Talent

favicon

The idea: the Pareto principle. The big silver block is the 80% of the work. The thin ember bar is the 20% that moves everything — the Right Hand. That thin ember line repeats across the page as the only accent colour.

The prompts I used, in order

Prompts 1–5 are my own messages, lightly cleaned up for grammar.

1 • OFFER

"Run the five Grand Slam questions, and use Kasim's brain to answer them alone."

2 • INVERSE INTERVIEW

"Ask me the 20 questions a Grand Slam Offer needs — audience, problem, solution, value stack, price, guarantee, action. Answer each for Kasim's Right Hand Program using only his Second Brain and paretotalent.com, and cite the source."

3 • COPY

"Write the copy for all 8 sections — hero, social proof, problem, how it works, benefits, offer, guarantees, final CTA. Lead with the guarantee, Hormozi angle, only facts from the offer file."

4 • FIRST BUILD

"Build it as one HTML page I can paste into a GoHighLevel Code section. Create a new logo, use the real photos of Kasim smiling, and give Ivan a place. Many students used the same info — make my page unique."

5 • DESIGN HANDOFF

"Put the page and all its info in one file so a more advanced AI, specialized in web design, can take it to a high, sophisticated level." → a brief that locks every word and fact, and frees the design.

6 • DESIGN PASS (V2)

"Build a website worth $10K for Kasim using DESIGN-HANDOFF-landing-page.md; get inspired by the attached design prompts (cinematic GSAP hero, hero-parallax scrolling wall) and the nexus-studio template, or create something better." Tools: Claude Code with the ui-ux-pro-max and frontend-design skills; effects rebuilt in plain JavaScript so the page pastes into GHL.

7 • FACT CHECK

After the design pass, every word on v2 was compared against the locked copy. All facts matched; the only new line uses the visitor's own calculator number.

Honesty note: this is a concept page built for the bootcamp, and it says so at the top and bottom. Every figure and guarantee is quoted from paretotalent.com, and every button leads to Pareto's real matching page.
